Ohio's Leaders in 1920

WILSON & HARDING

FRANK B. WILLES

The election in Ohio was a close one. The Republicans won the governorship and the U. S. Senate. The Democrats won the House of Representatives. The election was a great success for the Republican party.

Ohio fell in line with other states and will have every state office filled with Republicans. The only question at first was over the governorship but Harry L. Davis will have more than 150,000 plurality over Vis Dwyer.

Congressman Foss was re-elected by 25,000 plurality.

Frank B. Wiles for Senator by over 100,000.

Ohio gave Harding about 400,000. The Grange prohibition enforcement act carries by 75,000 in the state.

The election locally was not marked with anything unusual except the interest displayed by the first voters. The day was quiet though out and a very large vote was polled. In former presidential years the vote polled in each precinct was around 325. This year the corporation polled 498 votes and the township 498 votes.

The following is the vote in the corporation and township on presidential electors for Harding and Cox:

Corp. Twp.

WARNING WAS NOT HEED

BY SOME ELECTORS

There had been ample warning given all voters about certain instructions as to changing a national ticket and writing names. The law does not recognize such and the board of electors had to be governed accordingly and instructed all such voters to vote as indicated and not to write names.

There never had been any order to write names.

HERE IS ONE PROMISE THAT SHOULD BE MADE GOOD

W. C. T. U. workers for R. L. Gowdy in Xenia ran counter to the friends of Frank T. Taylor, who is Court Bailiff under Judge Kyle. To influence votes for Gowdy, Xenia, had the promise of the position of Court Bailiff upon Mr. Gowdy's election as judge. Another reason for supporting Mr. Gowdy was that the minister's niece, a stenographer at Wilberforce was to become the court stenographer if Mr. Gowdy was elected. Xenia North precinct, including Wilberforce gave Gowdy 888 votes. The story needs no other confirmation.

The minister that urged support for Gowdy is a member of the Gowdy-Marshall executive committee. T. H. Howard is one of the Gowdy-Marshall bosses in the Famous Fourth ward. This faction's other boss in the Fourth ward, Xenia, B. Y. Rogers, will be deputy to Harvey Elam, when he becomes Clerk of Court.

This makes the Famous Fourth ward bosses solid in the court house after January 1st.

We hope that Mr. Gowdy will make good his promises to these men. Let there be no duplication of the Frank Robinson case in Xenia when Gowdy was district tax assessor. Mr. Robinson was a teacher in the colored schools and had the promise of the appointment of assessor in his ward by Mr. Gowdy. When the time came another was appointed and Mr. Robinson was told by Gowdy that he could never think of appointing a black man to assess a white man. It behoves Mr. Howard and the colored minister to guard their interests closely. History may repeat itself.

ROSS LECTURE COURSE

The Ross township lecture course gives promise of being even more of a success than last year in Ross township. The course is more expensive than that of last year but more season tickets have been sold so that the increase on the contract guarantee will be easily covered.

The Parent Teachers' Association of the Centralized school undertook the sale of tickets preceding the first first number held October 27 and the success was assured from the start. The first number, Edward Reno, magician, pleased a large audience.

The following are the numbers on the course with the dates:

Clark French Co., entertainers, Nov. 27th.

A. T. Bailey, lecturer, Dec. 10

Bernice Ladd, reader, Jan. 4

McDonald-Crowder Co. entertainers, Feb. 14.

Have your sale bills printed here.

ROSS P. T. ASSOCIATION

The regular monthly meeting of the Ross township Parent Teachers' Association will be held as usual at the school, Friday, Nov. 12 at 2 P.M. At this meeting two matters of interest and importance will be taken up. Reports of Mrs. Arthur Cummings and Mrs. Frank Dean on the recent Dayton, Oct. 14-16 and the adoption of a permanent constitution and by-laws by the association. Further plans for definite work will also be discussed. The success of the men and ladies in pushing the Lecture Course ticket campaign has encouraged them to undertake other specific lines of work and these will be started immediately.

UNION REVIVAL SERVICES

At a meeting Monday evening of the Minister Union and several laymen of the different churches in the township held a union revival services beginning December 1 and lasting until Sabbath evening Dec. 19. The meetings will be held in the opera house and will be conducted by the Rev. W. C. Nash of Springfield, O. Mr. Nash comes highly recommended and under his leadership the revival will no doubt prove a success.

Beginning nextweek cottage prayer meetings will be held in Cedarville and the surrounding country. The following committees were appointed:

1. Cottage prayer meetings—Messrs. White, Parker, Harrison, Finney.

2. Entertainment—Messrs. Butler, Finney, W. C. Hill.

3. Finance—Messrs. Hartman, Jurkat, Stewart, Herrick.

Publicity—Messrs. Butler, Keith, Bull, W. C. Hill, McElhinney.

4. Music—Committee to be composed of the choir leaders of the different churches.

5. To arrange for the opera house, Parker, Finney, W. H. Crowell.

SENTIMENT WAS CHANGED

Yellow Springs went on record for Judge Kyle with a majority of about 100 over Gowdy. Six years ago Gowdy defeated Kyle in that place three to one. The activity of Mrs. Flatter for Gowdy and for the mixed ticket sent scores of voters over to Kyle as a vote for the non-partisan mixed ticket campaign.

WHAT NAMES MEAN.

Mrs. J. H. Millburn has looked up the middle name of Senator Harding. Gamsel is mentioned in the Bible in Numbers, 1:10; 2:20; 7:54-56; 19:48 and also in Acts 2:34. In the Hebrew Metaphysical Dictionary the meaning of the name Gamsel, is God's reward on spiritual endorsement and in all the chapters mentioned above the name is applicable as a ruler.

"Trail's End" is the name of the magnificent country estate of Gov. Cox, south of Dayton. It is one of the most beautiful estates in Ohio and the residence is built after the French chateau type. After serving as Congressman from the Third district for three terms and governor of Ohio for three terms and completing his political record as the defeated candidate for the highest office in the country, Gov. Cox will return to "Trail's End" and devote his time to private business. This means the end of his political career.

T. The Red Cross is still serving the soldiers and sailors as well as caring for the needy. The drive for membership comes Nov. 11.

The People Who Fail

25 Per Cent of the people over 25 years of age have failed miserably and are dependent upon others.

Most people expect to make money and live on it. They do not stop to think that they are not making money and are dependent upon others. They are not making money and are dependent upon others.

It is safe to affirm that systematic saving for twenty years will absolutely preclude the possibility of ever being dependent.

This Bank will help you increase your savings by adding 4 Per Cent interest. If you haven't a Savings Account, start one this week, and above all keep it growing. Don't be one of the people who fail.

FREE FOR SENATOR.

The election results means that Congressman Foss is the logical man for United States Senator from Ohio to succeed Thompson two years from now. Ohio has no other man that can carry the state.

WAS ABOUT RIGHT.

Some time ago during the campaign George Little, chairman of the Harding-Coolidge Club, Xenia, in his remarks before introducing the speaker of the evening, remarked that Virginia had been regarded as the mother state for presidents but that Ohio would assume that honor at the end of this campaign. Mr. Little also stated that Virginia had furnished the Democratic presidents and that Ohio never had and never would elect any but Republican native son presidents.

YELLOW SPRINGS HIGHEST.

The Republicans in Yellow Springs set out to kill the Democratic prospects as approved by the W. C. T. U. in voting a mixed ticket. Republicans in that place were determined to sit down on Mrs. Platter's tactics and with the aid of the ladies fought for a strait ticket. The result was that Yellow Springs gave Harding 539 votes, the highest vote from any precinct in the county for the Republican ticket.

SMOKED THEM OUT.

The series of articles appearing in the Gazette under the title of "Mr. and Mrs. Platter" proved to be political propaganda and was paid for by Mrs. Carrie Platter and T. M. Scarff. The articles attracted the attention of the Harding-Coolidge Club in that city and an attorney was delegated to investigate knowing that it was paid matter the corrupt practice act was being violated. The Gazette management weakened under pressure and admitted the charge. The nerve of them was to represent to their readers that it was an oversight in not marking the articles as paid political advertising as required by law. When the attorney showed the management the possibility of a $1000 fine the Platter dose was soon marked as required by law.

Economy of Speech.

The country as a whole has lost the power of words. It is no longer a British colony, that she is creating a language of her own, and, to prove their independence, they make a practice of incorporating into our speech words without defining them. Lately, however, we have noticed a tendency toward simplicity, that they resemble grunts, taken over from the speech of persons who have come to us from all the non-English speaking countries of the world. And, in their love of equality and fraternity, these people refuse to accept the speech of those whose simple needs are satisfied with frugal vocabulary; in this way they have succeeded in cutting down their own vocabulary to the same point. When a Man's Sick.

It is when we are sick that we make the hardest call on our philosophy of life. It is the most difficult of mental feats to be resigned to physical suffering and incapacity. There have been cheerful sick men in history, like Alexander Pope, it is true, but they were and are few and far between. Julius Caesar, for instance, proved to be a very querulous man when he was sick.

FORDSON

TRADE MARK

There are many tractors clamoring for the patronage of the farmer. The Very air is charged with the noise of claims. One would think that all the farmer had to do was to buy a Tractor and he would enter into the Millennium.

Well, consider this fact—there are a great many different makes of Tractors. Tractors have been on the American market for twenty years. In that time some three hundred thousand Tractors have been sold to the farmers in the United States. The Fordson Tractor has only been on the market two years, and, in that time more than one hundred thousand Fordson Tractors have been sold to the farmers of the United States.

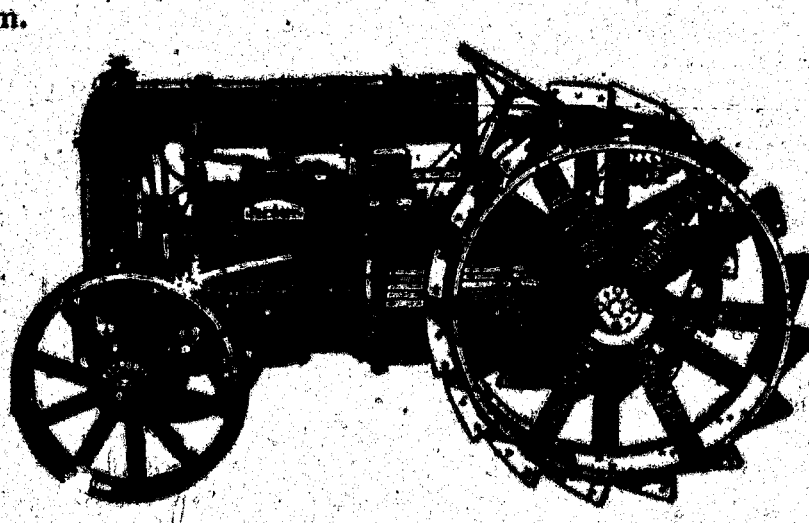

Two and two make four. Two and two always will make four. If the Fordson Tractor had not delivered more good work, more economical work, than any other farm tractor, it would not have sold in the ratio of anywhere from five and more to one. "The proof of the pudding is in eating." The proof of the superior merits of the Fordson Tractor is in its larger sale and use.

The Fordson Tractor then asks you to buy it because of what it has done for your neighbors. It asks you to buy it on its merits. It asks you to buy it, Mr. Farmer, because you have use for it every day in the year. All the uses for the Fordson Tractor have not yet been uncovered because new places where machine power can take the place of human power where machine power can supplant horse and mule-power, are being found every week, and wherever such discovery occurs, the Fordson Tractor will fill the bill more satisfactorily than any other form of power.

The Fordson is simple in design, and it is very strongly made of the highest quality of iron and steel. It is the product of the greatest genius the world has ever known, and it is most economical in first cost and after expense. The Fordson Tractor on your farm will increase the value of every foot of ground in that farm. It will put more dollars and cents into every hour you put into the farm.

Now why not have a Fordson right away? Take up the subject with us. Come in and get the details, and all the particulars. It is only a matter of time until you buy a farm tractor—that is sure. So don't put it off when it means money to you to act promptly.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 7

PRINCIPLES OF CHRISTIAN LIVING

1. LAMARCA TERT - Matt, 641-7; 12.
2. GODDARD TERT - Book 7's first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL-Mark 16:
28-31; Luke 24: 34-48.
PRIMARY TOPIC-Our Heavenly Father's Care.
JUNIOR TOPIC-Jesus Teaching How to Pray.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
-Golden Rules for Living.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
-Counselors for Daily Living.

Having set forth in the previous chapters the standard of righteousness, Christ now exhibits the underlying principles which control the heir to the kingdom.

1. As to Giving (6:1-4).
Doing alms before men is not commanded, as that would contradict
Matthew 5:16, but the doing of them before men to be seen of them. To seek publicity in doing our alms is to miss the reward of our heavenly Father.

1. False prayer (vv. 5, 7). This consists (1) in praying to be seen and heard of men (v. 5). (2) Using vain repetitions (v. 7). This does not mean that we should ask but once, for we have examples of Christ and Paul praying three times for the same thing (Matt. 26:39-42; II Cor. 12:7, 8), but the using of vain words.

2. True prayer (v. 6). Since prayer is a transaction of the soul with God, we should have a real desire for fellowship with the Father, then go and meet him in secret.

3. The model prayer (vv. 9-13). This involves (1) right relationship—"Our Father" (v. 9); (2) right attitude—"Hallowed be thy name" (v. 9, 10); (3) right spirit—"Give us our daily bread," "Forgive us our sins," "Lead us not into temptation" (vv. 11-13).

III. As to Fasting (vv. 18-24).
The Lord knew the temptation which would befall his children in their pilgrimage here below touching worldliness, and the anxiety to which it would lead; therefore, he sets forth the proper attitude toward them:

1. The nature of earthly riches (vv. 19, 21). (1) Uncertain (vv. 19, 20). Earthly treasures corrode, or are taken from us. (2) Seductive (v. 21). Christ called riches deceitful (Matt. 13:22). It is not wrong to possess earthly treasures, but when earthly treasures possess us they become a snare.

2. The affect of earthly riches (vv. 22-24). (1) They blunt the moral and spiritual perceptions (vv. 22-23). When the heart is upon earthly treasures it is taken off God. (2) They render null and void all service (v. 24).

IV. As to Faith in the Heavenly Father (vv. 25-34).

1. Be not anxious about food and clothing (vv. 25-32). Because (1) It shows distrust for God (v. 30). (2) It is useless (v. 31). Anxiety can bring nothing. (3) It is heathenish (v. 32). Those who have not learned to know God may worry over temporal affairs, but those who know him as a loving Father should be free from care.

2. Be anxious to seek the kingdom of God and serve him (vv. 33, 34). This does not forbid proper forethought in making a reasonable support for one's self and family.

V. As to Censorious Judgments (7:1-12).

1. The sin and folly of censorious judgments. This does not forbid us making an estimate of the lives of those about us, for "by their fruits ye shall know them;" neither does it prevent us from administering rebuke to those who deserve it. It rebukes that readiness to blame others and to magnify their weakness and

2. The duty of discrimination in dealing out holy things (v. 6). The gospel should be preached to all, but there should be discrimination, for "dogs and swine" have no comprehension as to holy things.

2. Qualification for discrimination (vv. 7-12). (1) A life of prayer (vv. 7-11). A life of prayer is a requisite for rightly divining the word of truth. (2) A disposition to treat others as one would be treated (v. 12). Confucius set forth this principle negatively, but only the Christ could do it positively.

lively. Between the negative and positive sides of this rule is found the difference between heathenism and Christianity. No man can live this rule unless he has been born from above and abides with Christ in the school of prayer, till he becomes like him.

What God Requires.
What God requires is an undivided will—a yielding will, desiring only what he desires, rejecting only what he rejects, and both unreservedly. Where such a mind is, everything turns to good, and its very amusements be-

Revenge. Let alone that the wisest and best of all judges has pronounced it, it blackens the hearts of men. It distorts their views of right. It sets them to devise evil against those to whom they profess to be friendly.

It is not the noblest return for injury, not even the bravest way of meeting it. The greatest courage is to bear punishment, not to avenge when you are wronged, and when a wrong has been done you to fight.

The Ideal Arcola Radiator-Boiler
For cellars, small houses, flats, stores, schools, stations, etc. It is unlike most hot water heating plants and does not require a cellar.
The Arcola Boiler can set in any room in the house. It is more pleasing in appearance than any stove. A stove heats in spots while the Arcola distributes the heat uniformly over the various rooms of the house. With this kind of a heating plant you stop trips to the cellar to "fire the furnace".
The only Ideal Arcola Radiator-Boiler heating plant in the county set up for display purposes showing you how it works can be seen at our store.

MARKET REPORTS GIVE MUCH VALUABLE INFORMATION TO MAN WHO READS THEM

Is the Buyer or Seller Who Understands Market Reports This Reading Is More Interesting Than Fiction.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"Market reports dry? Not on your life!" exclaimed Haskins. "Reading them saved me $125 last week on my potatoes. Of course the reports were dry until I got on to how to read them, but believe me, now I think they are about the most interesting reading there is."

This veteran reader of market reports on this particular morning was sizing up the potato situation, since he had potatoes to sell. The manner in which he did it illustrates pretty well how to use market reports intelligently. He began by taking up the latest daily schedule of potatoes and looked over the report from the leading market, namely, Chicago. He noted that our lots were quoted at 15 cents per hundredweight lower than the day before. Then, glancing at the reports from Minneapolis, Kansas City, New York, Boston, and Philadelphia, he learned that the prices in these cities had declined but little.

Finding Cause of Decline.
Seeking the cause of the weakness in the Chicago markets he observed records of heavy arrivals of potatoes from Minnesota, Michigan and other northern shipping states, and concluded that the drop was caused by these large offerings reaching the nearest leading market in conjunction with heavy supplies from other producing sections. He also found mention of some poorly graded stock which, in all probability, added to the unfavorable market situation.

Turning to his file of daily reports for the past week and the Weekly Review issued by the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture, he concluded that the decline marked a general downward trend. Consequently he glanced over the reports from the leading producing sections supplying Chicago, and found that the trend of f. o. b. prices was also downward at such important potato centers as Wapak, Wis.; Moorehead, Minn.; Grand Rapids, Mich., and in the Grand Junction district of Colorado.

Also that hauling and shipping were active at these points.

Review of Situation.
"Evidently the western crop is now moving fast," Haskins said to himself, "and the Chicago market has been the first to feel the effect in a marked degree."

Rapidly he went over in his mind the crop conditions, aided by the carlot summary, Weekly Reviews, and a special article on the potato situation in a recent issue of a farm paper.

He noted the size of the crop compared with the previous year and the amount shipped from each state for the season, to date. Next, the attitude of growers, buyers and shippers escaped his attention. He took into account the car supply and the weather conditions which, at that particular time, were both fairly favorable. He noted conditions in eastern shipping sections and consuming markets.

Having reviewed the whole situation, with the aid of market data such as any producer can secure with little trouble, he was able to reach an intelligent conclusion. Experienced as he was, he detected the "finger" on which the market was turning and said to himself: "Chicago car lots are off another dime; the market is going down. All things considered, as the weakness isn't extreme, I think I will hold on to my potatoes a little longer, for I believe things will look better in a few days."

Summarizing Many Facts.
To size up the situation for potatoes or any other crop at any time requires the quick balancing of many facts and causes. No general instructions can be given to fit all cases. The way to learn to use market reports is to begin and use them. Experience comes with practice. In time one is able to read between the lines and to "feel" the market from indications that may mean little to the beginner. Patience and alertness in studying market reports, including those in the daily papers, those issued by the bureau of markets and those found in weekly periodicals, will bring its reward.

OPENING SILO FOR FEEDING
First Remove Cut Straw or Whatever Covering Was Used—Don't Cut Silage in Sections.
When first opening the silo for feeding, remove the cut straw or whatever covering was used. Do not cut out the silage in sections. Feed from the whole surface. In this way not a pound of ensilage will be spoiled or wasted. If cut down, mold will work its way to the exposed side. Never feed moldy food of any kind to cows.

WEANING CALVES IN SPRING
After Having Been Placed on Pasture Gradually Increase Allowance of Grain—Add Hay Later.
Fall-born calves should be weaned after they have been placed on pasture in the spring, and then a gradually increasing allowance of grain should be given them, with hay and silage added later in the summer. For baby beef they should go into dry lot for finishing at the end of the pasture season, and be ready to market in December or January.

PERIODS OF INCUBATION
The period of incubation extends as follows for domestic fowls:
Turkeys, 28 to 30 days.
Guinea, 26 to 28 days.
Pheasant, 28 to 30 days.
Ducks, 26 to 28 days.
Geese, 27 to 33 days.
Hens, 19 to 24 days (average 21).
Pigeons, 16 to 20 days.

GENERAL FARM NOTES
Provide hogs with inexpensive but sufficient shelter.
The tuberculous cow is the greatest source of danger to healthy cattle.
The hen with long spurs will never win her spurs laying eggs. Decapitate her, for profit's sake!
The amount of manure voided by animals varies according to the kind, size and age of the animal.
In raising market fowls there are several breeds of fowls that reach a great weight in a very short time.
The chicken houses on the farm need not be elaborate. It should not be connected with any other building.
The soy bean is regarded as a coming forage plant in Minnesota by Andrew Boss, vice director of the Minnesota experiment station.
Feeding is truly a science if one follows it as it should be pursued. That is true of poultry feeding as well as feeding live stock.
Corn silage is comparatively low in protein, hence feeds rich in this substance should be fed with it in order to obtain the best results.
Rabbits are great producers of fresh meats. They eat much of the vegetation that might be wasted without them. Why not raise a few Belgian rabbits?

LIVES IN MEMORY

New Yorker Recalls Delightful
Evening With Him.

Satisfied That He Saw Great Humor in the Best of Men He Met by the Fireside and Smoked
With Him.

It is only about forty years since I spent a most delightful evening with Mr. and Mrs. Clemens at their newly-built home in Hartford, yet the Sun and New York Herald refers to the house as "one of the oldest residences in New England from the point of construction," says the writer of a letter to that newspaper.

Undoubtedly your reporter wrote that it was "one of the oldest," and he was right. The types were guilty of a characteristic prank. We sat in front of a goodly old-fashioned fireplace and smoked such tobacco as Mark liked—that is, he and Mrs. Clemens smiled, and Mark himself cleaning, burning out and filling pipe after pipe—there were a dozen of them standing in the corners of the fireplace—and handing them to me or lighting one for himself as fast or even faster than they were needed. There were two of them alight all the time.

I wish I could remember what he said, but I can recall only one remark, and that was too trivial to repeat, though I laughed at it as heartily as I did at all the other nonsense. It was not what he said so much as the way he said it.

P. T. Barnum, the great showman, told me that he, too, kept on laughing all the time Mark Twain talked to him. "But my wife doesn't," he said. "Mrs. Barnum has not a very keen sense of humor and she is a little afraid of laughing at the wrong time, she sometimes seems unappreciative when Mark is really funny even for him."

"She has found out for herself, though, a pretty good rule to go by," he continued. "You see, she and I frequently visit Mark and Mrs. Clemens and I noticed, after a while that she was always watching Mrs. Clemens, so I asked her why she did it, and she told me that it was because Mrs. Clemens did not always laugh as other people did when Mark spoke. 'But when she laughs,' said Mrs. Barnum, 'I know it must be really funny, as I laugh, too.'"

"I call that pretty shrewd," continued the old showman with one of his own hearty laughs, "and I took to doing the same thing myself. It worked well, I must say, for I seldom after a while that Mrs. Clemens never laughed excepting at the very best of Mark's jokes. I suppose she must have got tired laughing all the time before that."

I knew the great man for a long time after that wonderful evening, but I never felt that I knew him any better.

UNION MEETING SABBATH

At the request of the Cedarville Ministerial Association, Cedarville College, faculty, the seminary, the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., will conduct union gospel services once a month in the opera house. The first of these meetings will be held next Sabbath evening, Nov. 7. The President of the College, Dr. W. R. McChesney, will preach the sermon on that occasion. There will be special music by the students. All are cordially invited to be present.

On Thursday evening of this week Mr. Carman and Mr. A. C. Eckert of Springfield visited the College and gave an illustrated lecture in the chapel on "A Trip Through Palestine" showing places of interest and their relation to the life of Christ.

The entire cast is now literally working day and night in preparation for the college play, "What Happened to Jones?" The aim is to excel the "Arrival of Kitty" of last year. A number have been selected to give readings, stunts and music between the acts.

A choir of between thirty and forty students is promised to lead the singing at the first college gospel service in the opera house next Sabbath evening. Dr. McChesney will preach.

A straw vote of students and faculty was taken in chapel last Tuesday morning on all the prominent offices, and largely forecast the results received from the actual count in the wee small hours of the next morning. Hereafter people interested in the outcome of elections need only come to chapel on election morning, note the result and then that night they can go to bed.

Mr. Carl G. Duncan, manager of the boys' basketball team, and Miss Marjorie Wright, manager of the Girls' team, are arranging a very interesting series of games that will begin on the home floor early in December. Mr. Roger Collins, of the 1918 has been engaged by the College to coach both teams. He says there is some really promising material among the students this year.

The meeting of the Orange and Blue Literary Club last Monday evening was well attended. A program related to Halloween and to the impending election was put on by the members, culminating in a clever stunt directed by Misses Greer and Parker on woman suffrage.

Mr. William Jones, who travels for hymn-book house, also sells playing cards. "What Happened to Jones?" Nov. 19.

The Red Cross was prepared to meet any disaster caused by fire, flood, storm or epidemic. Red Cross drives for membership, Nov. 11.

The Red Cross is answering Humanity's call by continuing its relief work in other countries.

The Red Cross is the Soul of the Nation mobilized for Service. Renew your membership on Nov. 11.

Cissy is a lively young girl but she doesn't shake the Bishop very much. See her in "What Happened to Jones?"

Mrs. Ebenezer Goodly rules her husband and her household with a rod of iron and very sharp tongue, but she gets fooled too. "What Happened to Jones?"

Helms, a Swedish servant girl is a scream in "What Happened to Jones" Nov. 19.

Mrs. R. S. McElhinney and son have returned from Bloomington, Ind. after a visit with relatives.

The election officials did not complete their work until about 2:30 Wednesday morning. When you start at 6:30 Tuesday morning and work until 2:30 the next morning you get in a full day.

Russ Didn't Work.
It was the night before Christmas and mother was having a great deal of trouble getting little Helen to go to bed, and finally said, "Santa Claus sent word he is coming tonight, so you must get to bed and to sleep when mother's angel child knows: 'Don't you think we'd better stay up and 'celebrate' him?'"

Growth of Postal System.
The first street letter boxes were erected in New York and Boston August 2, 1868. April 6, 1890, congress enacted that letters unclaimed for should be returned to the address of the writer when printed on the envelope. Money order service began in the United States November 1, 1894. The international money order system was established three years later.

Early Glass Manufacture.
The first oven devoted to glass production in Bohemia was erected in 1442, and with the passing of time ovens rapidly increased in capacity and number. Invariably they were built in deep forests, in order to insure an inexpensive and sufficient fuel supply and to keep the noxious gases as far as possible from settlements.

The Nile River.
So far only the upper and lower courses of the Nile river are navigable throughout the entire year. The six cataracts, which extend 1,100 miles, with long stretches of smooth water between them, prevent the Middle Nile from being available for important navigation except at very high flood.
